PREFACE

This edition of the Statistics Canada Catalogue of Publications includes all titles available from the department as of December 31, 1978. The next planned release of the Catalogue will be early 1980.

The most important new feature of the 1978-79 Catalogue is the inclusion of a completely revised Title/Subject Index. This index provides more efficient and accurate access to material available in Statistics Canada publications and includes, for the first time, complete integration of Census and non-Census index terms. The Index contains more than 10,000 subject references and includes cross-references based on the Library of Congress Subject Headings. Another important change is the addition of dates of first issue for regular publications.

Users should note that in November 1978 Statistics Canada announced that a number of publications would be discontinued in accordance with a federal government spending restraint program. All are included in the list of discontinued publications. However, the final editions of some of these publications will not appear until 1979, and their abstracts have been identified accordingly. Modifications to publications as a result of the spending restraint (other than changes of periodicity) have been included by way of notes associated with abstracts of affected publications, including reference to the first issue for which modifications are to be included.

All publications from the 1976 Census of Population and Housing and the 1976 Census of Agriculture are included in this Catalogue, although in certain instances the publications will be released after the reference date of December 31, 1978. In addition, all publications from the 1971 Census are included. Users should note that publications from the 1976 Census will also be listed in a separate Census Catalogue.

Users should also note that the 1975 and subsequent editions of the Catalogue ceased listing all "vintage" publications. It is suggested, therefore, that those wishing to refer to such publications should use the 1973-74 edition, since it provides a link between the Historical Catalogue (11-504) and all post-1975 editions, with the exception of the 1956 quinquennial Census which is contained in the 1968 edition of the Catalogue.

As in the case of previous Catalogues, single copies are provided at no charge. There is, however, a nominal charge for multiple copy requests.

INTRODUCTION

Statistics Canada responsibilities in the Canadian statistical system concern the whole range of statistics on the economic and social activities and conditions of the Canadian people.

The publishing program of the department reflects this responsibility, and is designed to make statistical information readily available to users in the forms in which it is most frequently wanted, including publications and computer print-outs, micro-form and computer tapes. Data are also available on-line through the Canadian Socio-economic Information Management System (CANSIM).

This Catalogue is presented in three main sections. Part I of the Catalogue provides annotations on publications bearing Catalogue Numbers. Part II of the Catalogue provides information on unpublished or uncatalogued material and information on major statistical publications of other federal government departments and agencies. Finally, the third section of the Catalogue is a detailed Subject/Title Index.

In using Statistics Canada data, the user should be aware of the fact that all information compiled by the department is subject to the clauses of the Statistics Act which protects organizations and persons from individual disclosure.

Formation of Five-digit Catalogue Numbers

Most Statistics Canada publications can be identified by their unique five digit Catalogue numbers. These numbers are formed in the following way:

First Digit: Under the grouping arrangement, all Statistics Canada publications are classified into 8 major subject groups, as follows:

- 1 General
- 2 Primary Industries
- 3 & 4 Manufacturing
- 5 Transportation, Communications and Utilities
- 6 Commerce, Construction, Finance and Prices
- 7 Employment, Unemployment and Labour Income
- 8 Education, Culture, Health and Welfare
- 9 Census, Population Estimates and Projections

Second Digit: Each of the above major groups is further divided into sub-groups. For example, Major Group 3 (Manufacturing) is divided into 6 sub-groups: (1) General Survey; (2) Foods, Beverages and Tobacco; (3) Leather and Rubber Products; (4) Textiles and Apparel; (5) Wood Products; (6) Paper Products and Printing.

Third Digit: The third digit indicates the frequency of publication as follows:

- 0 Issued more than once per year
- 2 Issued annually
- 4 Issued biennially
- 5 Issued once only (occasional)
- 6 Issued annually with various sub-titles
- 7 1971 Census
- 8 1976 Census

Fourth and Fifth Digits: The fourth and fifth digits are used to give each title its own unique permanent number. The numbers are allocated sequentially as new publications are officially approved by the department.

The following is a typical example of the above described catalogue numbering system: Catalogue Number 84-001 has been assigned to the publication Vital Statistics. This Catalogue Number was created as follows:

- 8 Major Group — Education, Culture, Health and Welfare
- 4 Minor Group — Vital Statistics
- 0 Frequency — Issued more than once per year (in this case, quarterly)
- 01 First Catalogue Number allocated in this group

International Standard Serial Numbers (ISSN)

The National Library of Canada, in cooperation with Statistics Canada, is assigning 8 digit International Standard Serial Numbers to all serial Statistics Canada publications for the purpose of facilitating identification, citation, ordering and bibliographic control on an international basis. More than 90% of Statistics Canada serial publications have been so identified to date, with the goal of complete identification prior to the release of the next edition of the Statistics Canada Catalogue.

Local Access to Data — Reference Services — Regional Advisors — Libraries

User Advisory Services has statistical Reference Centres in nine major cities across the country supported by a head office staff in Ottawa. Toll free telephone lines to the Reference Centres are available in several areas.

At no cost to the user, trained staff in the nine cities:

- Answer over 200,000 telephone inquiries a year for statistical data or advice on the availability, meaning and uses of the data;

- Maintain libraries of all Statistics Canada's recent publications as well as some historical ones and additional related material, some of which is on microform;
- Open the libraries to the public during normal working hours, provide users with study areas to work with the publications;
- Advise users on how to purchase Statistics Canada information through publications, microfiche and microfilm, and computer based products or services;
- Retrieve information directly from CANSIM, Statistics Canada's machine-readable database or advise users about the on-line services.

In addition to being available from User Advisory Services local Reference Centres, Statistics Canada publications are also available for reference purposes from a large number of libraries throughout Canada, including most provincial legislative libraries and many public and university libraries. A complete historical collection of Statistics Canada material is held by the Statistics Canada Library in Ottawa and is available to the general public for reference purposes.

Canadian Socio-economic Information Management System (CANSIM)

One of the ways of accessing Statistics Canada's information is through CANSIM, the agency's machine-readable database. CANSIM comprises two modules, the CANSIM Time-Series module, containing current and historical information from a broad range of interrelated socio-economic fields, and the CANSIM Cross-Classified module, which addresses the demand for multi-dimensional data mostly expressed by scholars and practitioners in the fields of demography, education, health and justice.

The Time-Series module comprises major groups of data from the following subject-matter areas:

- System of National Accounts
- Prices and Price Indexes
- Labour
- Manufacturing and Primary Industries (including Fuel, Power and Mining)
- Capital and Finance
- Construction
- Merchandising and Services
- External Trade
- Transportation
- Agriculture and Food
- Population Estimates and Projections
- Health and Welfare

It also contains data from numerous tables in the Canadian Statistical Review, the Bank of Canada Review (including selected U.S. statistics) and the Quebec Statistical Review. The content is constantly growing as new sets of data are added. Currently some 280 publications are represented in part or in full in the CANSIM Time-Series module.

The CANSIM Time-Series module is offered to users in two formats: the CANSIM Main Base and the CANSIM Mini Base. The CANSIM Main Base currently contains some 260,000 time series and is updated on a daily basis, usually at the same time the data is officially released. It is located on on-line disk packs at the CANSIM host service bureau. The CANSIM Mini Base is a standard subset of data which originates from the CANSIM Main Base. The CANSIM Mini Base currently contains approximately 17,500 of the most widely used time series. The CANSIM Mini Base is updated daily, within the next working day of the series being released on the CANSIM Main Base. The CANSIM Mini Base is offered by a number of Secondary Distributors.

Recognition of the increasing use of multi-dimensional information in a machine-readable form has led to the development of the CANSIM Cross-Classified module. The approach has been to adapt machine-processing techniques to current uses of multi-dimensional statistical aggregations.

Major data sources for the CANSIM Cross-Classified module currently are the Health, Justice, and Education, Science and Culture Divisions of Statistics Canada, as well as the Statistics Canada Census of Population data base, from which larger geographical aggregations are currently being added.

The CANSIM Cross-Classified module will be of particular interest to analysts and researchers specializing in social studies and societal evolution and problems. It meets their need for cross-tabulation and analysis of data on social conditions (family structure, occupation, income and others) available from the Census data base with data on social phenomena in the fields of health, welfare, justice and others. At the present time, the CANSIM Cross-Classified module is available only at the CANSIM host service bureau.

At the present time, the CANSIM host service bureau is DataCrown Inc. (Systems Dimensions Limited at time of writing), 770 Brookfield Road, Ottawa, Ontario K1V 6J5. Further information, including lists of secondary distributors, may be obtained from: CANSIM, Current Economic Analysis Division, Statistics Canada, R.H. Coats Building, Holland Avenue, Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0Z8, (613) 995-7406.

Publications in Microform

In addition to publications and machine readable data, Statistics Canada makes available large blocks of data in microform. A large part of the output of the 1976 Census of Population and Housing is available on microfiche, as are almost all 1976 Census of Agriculture tabulations and all current serial publications of the External Trade Division. Further information regarding the current microform offerings of the department can be obtained by contacting any of the Statistics Canada local Reference Centres.

The complete historical collection of Statistics Canada publications, with the exception of the Statistics Canada Daily, is being reproduced on microfiche under arrangement with Micromedia Limited of Toronto. A project to film all publications up to and including 1975, which will be completed in 1979, will bring together the most comprehensive body of Canadian statistical material ever assembled. Many rare and out-of-print items are included. Beginning in 1976, quarterly installments by major group/series have been made available as they have been produced. Issues since 1975 will become available starting in the spring of 1979. Further information on the project is available from: Micromedia Ltd., 5th floor, 144 Front Street W., Toronto, Ontario M5J 1G2. Telephone (416)593-5211.

How to Order Publications

When ordering, the Catalogue numbers, titles and issues (month, year) of publications should be quoted. Subscription orders are accepted for all serial publications, but not for biennial and occasional publications. Orders should be forwarded to Publications Distribution, Statistics Canada, Ottawa K1A 0T6. It should be noted that subscriptions do not commence with the current issue of an ordered publication, but rather begin with the next issue released following receipt of the subscription order. Individual publications may be ordered from Publications Distribution directly or the User Advisory Services local Reference Centres may be of assistance. When ordering, it is important to indicate if a subscription or a casual order, is desired. Alternatively, publications may be ordered through Government of Canada "authorized agent" bookstores throughout the country. These agents are listed in the Yellow Pages of the telephone book under "Book Dealers-Retail-Government of Canada Publications".

Those interested in all Statistics Canada data can order the Full Publication Service and receive publications automatically as soon as they are released. The current cost is $840 per year for the service to locations in Canada and $1008 for the service outside Canada. The Full Publication Service does not include decennial or quinquennial Census publications.

Prices listed in this Catalogue apply only to purchases within Canada. Customers in other countries must add 20% to quoted prices to cover additional postage and handling charges. An additional charge is levied if Air Mail is required. Prices of publications are subject to change without notice. Remittances should be in the form of cheque or money order made payable to the Receiver General for Canada. Currency and postage stamps should not be used in ordering publications by mail.

As credit is allowed in particular circumstances, delays in order fulfillment may be avoided by prepayment. However, Statistics Canada is prepared to invoice on a monthly basis customers who frequently order publications. Application forms for this service are available from Publications Distribution and from User Advisory Services local Reference Centres.

NEW PUBLICATIONS

Following is a list of new English Statistics Canada publications issued since the 1976-77 Catalogue was published. For serial publications, the date of the first issue is given. Catalogue numbers with "5" as the third digit are occasionals (non-serial).

Chapter 8 is devoted to the problem of ergodicity and Chapter 10 deals with time series with seasonality.

Standard Geographical Classification

The Standard Geographical Classification is a system for the identification and coding of geographical areas. It consists of a structured set of geographical units, usually municipalities; each identified by a unique code number which reflects municipal boundaries as June 1, 1976. The objective of the system is to make available a standard set of geographical units, which when used in Statistics Canada and elsewhere, will facilitate the linkage and exchange of data among different files containing information about geographical areas. This edition of the classification is published in three volumes — Catalogue Numbers 12-554 (replaces 12-545), 12-555 (replaces 12-546), 12-556 (replaces 12-552). A Compendium of Methods of Error Evaluation in Censuses and Surveys. E. and F. 25 pp.

It is well known that all data from whatever source, are subject to errors. This is true whether the data are derived from a complete enumeration of the population, from a sample survey, or from administrative records. The potential sources of errors include the failure to cover the population of interest, misunderstanding of questions, errors in recording answers, measurements of observations, errors in coding and processing the data, sampling errors and others. Generally, the interpretation of data requires some knowledge about their quality. Measures of data quality are also very important to designers of censuses and surveys. This document is a compendium or catalogue of methods that may be used to assess the quality of data obtained from censuses or surveys and to identify types and sources of errors.

3: MANUFACTURING

Description of Reports

Publications listed under "Manufacturing" relate to Division 5 of the Standard Industrial Classification.

These publications consist of a large number of reports, some of which provide summarized and analytical information for manufacturing as a whole and others which provide detailed information on individual manufacturing industries or on various commodities.

Although titles of the various reports are broadly indicative of the subject matter covered, explanatory notes have been included under title headings where necessary. Such notes are generally restricted to reports dealing with the manufacturing industries as a whole (sub-group 31) and to those publications dealing with commodities. The reports on individual industries are generally similar to each other in character and include such principal statistics as: number of establishments, number and type of employees and their salaries and wages, cost of fuel and electricity, value of shipments of goods of own manufacture, and value added. Comparative statistics are given for Canada for earlier years and for the preceding year for provinces. Also shown are the value and, where applicable, quantities of major products shipped and purchased materials used by establishments classified to the industry. Some reports also show total manufacturers' shipments of relevant commodities without regard to industry of origin, but this is given comprehensively for all commodities in an annual report on products shipped by Canadian manufacturers.

Primarily due to the fact that annual surveys cannot be initiated until the end of the calendar year and to the time required to collect edit and compile extensive data, most annual industry reports are not available until a year or more after the end of the year of survey. However, two-page preliminary bulletins providing data on shipments of goods of own manufacture and on principal statistics by province are issued to subscribers as soon as the statistics on individual industries are compiled, expediting their availability to users considerably. Other preliminary bulletins are also published relating to manufacturing as a whole.

In addition there are a large number of publications which are published more frequently than once a year and which contain current information on commodities (generally shipments, production or consumption). Although not exactly suitable to industry analyses, except in the case of one-industry commodities, they have proven to be most useful in commodity analyses.

Current estimates of the value of shipments, inventories and orders for manufacturing industries in total, numerous sub-aggregations and selected industries are issued monthly. They are based on a sample survey of establishments representing about 75% of the shipments, determined from the Census of Manufactures.

31: General SurveyPreliminary Bulletins, Census of Manufactures

A preliminary bulletin for almost every report of the annual Census of Manufactures, including some 130 industry reports and most general reports, is sent free-of-charge to subscribers to the report involved. In addition, the entire set of preliminary bulletins may be subscribed to as a service for $4.90 per annual Census. Preliminary bulletins contain selected commodity and principal statistics (employees, shipments, etc.) in the case of industry reports and selected principal statistics in the case of general reports.

Examines the application of Markov chain models to the forecasting of two aspects of industrial activity: the relocations of manufacturing establishments, and their growth as measured by number of employees. The modelling is based on data derived from the annual Census of Manufactures spanning the period 1961-65. The study also explores techniques of improving the accuracy of Markov chain models for projective purposes. A basic exposition of the theory is given, and the statistical tests to verify the assumptions of order and stationarity are explained.

- The totals in this publication represent the sub-industry detail for the 20 major industry groups of manufacturing shown in Table 3 of the report 'Private and Public Investment in Canada, Outlook 1978' (Catalogue 61-205) released about two months earlier. These estimates of capital and repair expenditures are based on the same questionnaire surveys of establishments engaged in manufacturing from which estimates are compiled for Catalogue 61-205 at an earlier period for timeliness. In both publications estimates for the most recent year represent intended spending. Estimates for the immediately preceding year are preliminary actual and totals for the penultimate year represent actual or final expenditures.

- 61-516 Real Domestic Product by Industry, 1961-1971, 1961=100. 217 pp.

An occasional report presenting revised estimates (on a 1961 weight and reference base) of Real Domestic Product (RDP) by industry for the 1961-1971 period annually, quarterly and monthly. The report also shows some previously unpublished data for the service-producing industries.

The revised estimates replace those previously published for this period in the 1974 supplement to the monthly publication Indexes of Real Domestic Product by Industry, Publication 61-005 and in Publications 61-510, and 61-506.

The concepts and general methodology remain largely unchanged from those described in the previously published reference papers (61-505 and 61-506).

The entire period is affected by statistical changes such as marginal revisions to the 1961 GDP distribution and the incorporation of new annual levels, or from the adoption of new methodologies such as the introduction of output measures for the finance industries to replace the previously used labour input indicators.

Table 1 of the report presents, for the first time, annual estimates of RDP by industry expressed in constant dollar rather than index form. In addition, Appendix I provides, for selected manufacturing industries, annual estimates of gross outputs, intermediate inputs, and value added in current and constant (1961) prices and the corresponding implicit price indexes. See also 61-213 and 61-005.

- 61-517 Inter-corporate Ownership, 1975. Bil. 3 Vol.

A directory of who owns or controls whom in Canadian business, more comprehensive than its predecessors, the last of which was published in 1972.

While previous issues traced ownership back to the 'First foreign parent', the new one establishes the ultimate owner. ICO includes ownerships by individuals and related groups, and considers the effects of options, insider holdings, convertible shares and interlocking directorships in determining control.

Researchers have been able to combine apparently unrelated enterprises operating from various foreign countries into one multinational enterprise. In some case, ICO now reports true owners where before it showed only nominees.

Standard Industrial Classification (SIC's) are included for each active Canadian corporation. Thus a picture is presented of whether a particular group operates wholly within one industry, in several or in many.

The information collected is based primarily upon non-confidential returns filed by Canadian corporations under the Corporations and Labour Unions Returns Act (CALURA).

Unemployment rates can be described as 'stock' measures of unemployment; they provide the number of persons unemployed at a point in time expressed as a percentage of the labour force. For analytical purposes, it is important to have information about the 'flows' underlying these stock measures. This study analyzes and compares estimates of flow components of unemployment in Canada from two Special Labour Force Surveys in 1964 and 1973. Data are provided for the following components: the proportion of the annual labour force experiencing unemployment during the year, the average number of times that persons become unemployed, and the average length of unemployment.

Census Tract Series, 1971

Reports in the Census Tract Series present basic population, housing, household, family and labour force characteristics for statistical areas (i.e., census tracts) within each of 29 larger rural centres and census metropolitan areas. Two reports are being issued for each tracted centre — one providing distributions of 100 p.c. data ('A' series) and the other containing classifications of sample data ('B' series). Each report contains an index map outlining the locations of the census tracts for that particular area.

"A" Series, 1971

Census tract reports in the 'A' series present basic distributions by age, sex, marital status, and mother tongue as well as family and household size and composition and housing attributes of tenure, type of dwellings, number of rooms, and sanitary facilities.

Part II

UNPUBLISHED INFORMATION

Part II of this Catalogue consists of two main elements, data files and information apart from data files which is generally described as unpublished information. This latter is information which may be useful to a limited number of individuals or organizations, but which is not published because the interest in it is not considered to be sufficiently broad.

Data files include summary tapes, punch card decks and micro data files. These latter are files of individual survey records which have been stripped of any information tending to identify the individual, family, household, etc., to which the record relates.

Unpublished information includes special tabulations, copies of special statements, computer print-outs, etc. Some unpublished non-statistical information, technical papers and maps are also available.

Like all information issued by Statistics Canada, data files and unpublished information are subject to the limitations of the Statistics Act which prevents the disclosure of information tending to identify individual persons or companies.

In instances where a request for unpublished information or a data file can be met without a considerable amount of time and effort, there is no charge. In some cases where the work to be done is substantial, a charge may be made. In still other cases a standard charge is made. Where charges are not specified in this Catalogue an estimate of cost will be provided before the work is undertaken.

Some of the classifications in use in the bureau can be made available in machine-readable form. Those interested in acquiring such material should apply to the Standards Division, Statistics Canada, Ottawa K1A 0T6. Otherwise, your dealings would be with the subject area division which produces the information you are interested in or with the Regional Advisor in your region.

CENSUS OF POPULATION AND HOUSING

A central service area has been established to assist users to obtain census data. In addition to the published reports listed in this catalogue, there are numerous other special products or services available, and a variety of forms in which statistics can be supplied. General descriptive information, consultation and technical documentation related to the conduct of the census and on the processing of the data, pre-planned and special products, prices and availability can be obtained by writing or telephoning to:

Census Information Services
Statistics Canada,
Ottawa K1A 0T7
Telephone (613) 996-5254

When making a request, users should specify clearly the materials or subject matter characteristics desired and the geographic or geo-administrative areas for which the census data are required. In some cases, the general nature of the problem, hypothesis, or project might assist in determination of their availability.

The major products and services available through the Census Information Services are outlined in the following sections.

Computer Printouts, Microfilm (71) and Microfiche (76)

In addition to the tabular results released in the form of reports or bulletins, a large number of tables were produced as computer printouts. These tables can be made available as photocopies or on microfilm (1971) and microfiche (1976). Data in these formats are individually prepared on request and a charge to cover the cost of reproduction is made.

Microform — format and cost

1971 — all unpublished tables are available on 16 millimeter diazo microfilm and are supplied in conventional 100 foot rolls (1500-2500 images). In most cases, more than one tabulation will be found on an individual roll of microfilm — cost per roll is $5.00.

1976 — all unpublished tables are available on microfiche supplied as negative vesicular copies with images recorded at 48 times reduction. The number of pages per microfiche will be either 270 or 435 depending on the page width. The microfiche will have computer generated indexes located in the lower right hand corner. The table number and area identifiers are featured in the readable title space. It is recommended that at least 36 power magnification lenses be used on microfiche reader printers when desiring photocopies.

To facilitate fast response and minimize handling the tables on microfiche will, with a few exceptions, be supplied only as complete tables. Prices per table range from $2.00 to $20.00 for most tables. A minimum order of $5.00 will apply. For those tables with prices of $10.00 or more, a partial set will be supplied for the desired region(s) but the minimum charge will apply.

More information on the microform data, including table content can be supplied by Census Information Services.

Maps and Geographic Reference Materials

Large scale maps depicting the boundaries of the Census Enumeration Areas and other statistical areas can be purchased. These include an urban map series, a rural map series and a Census Tract Map series showing enumeration areas (i.e. the territory covered by each enumerator in taking the census). In addition, various small scale maps are available depicting census divisions and other statistical areas. Maps from the Census are also available on 35 millimeter microfilm. A detailed list of the reference maps indicating scales, dimensions and costs can be obtained by requesting "Availability of Reference Maps 1971, Census Field" (G-71) and "Guide to Reference Maps available from the 1976 Census".

Official lists (1971) and Enumeration Area Reference lists (1976 Catalogue 99-810 to 99-820) identifying the composition of administrative and statistical areas (i.e. counties, cities, towns, villages, municipalities, census tracts, metropolitan areas and census agglomerations) in terms of the component enumeration areas and census codes, are available at nominal costs.

Street Indexes providing the link between civic addresses and enumeration areas (and census tracts where they exist) were compiled for 59 centres and are available in published form and on magnetic tape.

Magnetic Tape Files

Area Master Files describe the street network and other physical features as defined by means of geographic co-ordinates within census metropolitan areas.

Cartlib is a geographic boundary file of Census divisions and Census tracts in a format usable by computer mapping programmes.

The GEOGRAPHY TAPE FILE links the smallest unit of collection namely Enumeration Areas and corresponding centroids to all higher level geographic codes such as Federal Electoral Districts, Municipalities, Counties, Cities, Towns, Villages, etc. for all of Canada. This file also provides a linkage between Census and Standard Geographic Codes.

User Summary Tapes

A large number of tables were produced and are available on computer tapes. The tape files contain tabulated data and usually have more detail than is provided in printed reports. The summary tapes allow users to aggregate the tabulations either on a geographic basis or by combined data cells. They are available for a variety of geographic areas including enumeration areas (225-500 persons), census tracts (2,000-4,000 persons) and Census subdivisions.

The tape files are organized to provide Canada-wide coverage for a particular geographic level. Separate tape series have been produced for the short 2A form (100% coverage) questions, the long 2-B form (1/3 sample) questions, and for the census of agriculture. Additionally micro data in the form of public use sample files based on 1% sample of the Census are also available.

Special Tabulations

Insofar as confidentiality constraints permit, Statistics Canada will produce for users, at cost, special computer tabulations not included in the main programme. In most cases, these special tabulations will be produced using the Geographically Referenced Data Storage and Retrieval System (GRDSR) commonly known as Geocoding. The GRDSR system is designed to provide flexibility in cross-tabulation and specification of the geographical areas (i.e., user defined areas) for which special tabulations are to be produced for both 1971 and 1976 Censuses.

Special tabulations can be produced in hard copy (print-out) form, or on magnetic tape. Cost estimates will be provided upon submission of the tabulation specifications. Users desiring special tabulations are requested to be as precise as possible in describing their requirements. Essential specifications are: the exact variables or characteristics required; the set of responses or categories to be reported for each characteristic; and the specific geographic units for which data are to be tabulated. An illustration of the desired table layout and acceptable alternatives for any of the above will facilitate understanding of the specifications and processing of requests. Turn-around time for such requests will depend upon the complexity of the tables and availability of resources and the demand. Contracts and prepayment or deposits may be required.

How to Order

Maps, printouts, microfilm, computer tapes and special tabulations:

- (1) Requests for all materials other than printed reports should be addressed to: Census Information Services, Statistics Canada, Ottawa K1A 0T7. Please note that Deposit Accounts established with Supply and Services Canada for regular publications CANNOT be used for these materials.

Maps, tabulations and microfilm can be ordered from the indexes available from Census Information Service or by specifying the nature of the data required. Orders for summary tapes should indicate the type of computer, recording density, decimal representation (packed or external) and label requirements, if any. Documentation detailing record length, block size and record layouts is available for all files.

- (2) Prices for special materials (subject to revision) are:

- photocopies of computer printouts — 20¢ per page
- microfilm — $5.00 per roll
- microfiche — prices vary from $2.00 — $20.00 for most tables — minimum order $5.00
- computer summary tapes — $55 per reel (includes cost of 2,400 foot reel of magnetic tape)
- special tabulation prices are individually estimated and prepayment usually required and contract forms indicating terms of payment will be provided.

Note: Advance payment may be requested

Bibliography of Papers and Reports in the Census Field Internal Series

This bibliography covers works produced in the Census Field in the period 1965-1975, and is the sequel to "A Bibliography of Canadian Demography, Technical Paper No. 5 (1966)". The bibliography lists reprints of articles which staff members publish in journals or in official proceedings, of conferences; analytical and technical memoranda dealing with technical aspects of census information; working papers and research memoranda, which contain tentative ideas and discussions of a wide range of census subjects; planning and procedural memoranda, which provide a means for the dissemination of information pertaining to census plans and procedures; and results memoranda which provide detailed descriptions of census operations or procedures. Updates to this bibliography will be issued as required. Requests for copies should be forwarded to: Census Information Service, Statistics Canada, Ottawa K1A 0T7.

FAMILY EXPENDITURE

Some unpublished tabulations from family expenditure surveys are available. Inquiries should be directed to the Family Expenditure Section, Consumer Income and Expenditure Division, Statistics Canada, Ottawa, Ontario, K1A 0T6, or telephone (613) 996-4519.

FAMILY INCOMES

Computer tapes from the Survey of Consumer Finances containing micro data on incomes of census families and economic families are available for 1971, 1973 and 1975. It is planned to continue in future to release tapes for odd-numbered years in the summer of the year following data collection. Inquiries about this material as well as requests for special tabulations should be directed to: Data Dissemination, Consumer Income and Expenditure Division, Statistics Canada, Ottawa, Ontario, K1A 0T6, or telephone (613) 992-4742.

EDUCATION

The Education, Science and Culture Division provides statistics, commentary and analysis in a series of publications ranging from occasionals to annuals, plus a number of special studies.

A Service Bulletin presents tables and text using the most recent data available or preliminary figures, on current topical issues in education.

The Division is developing computerized educational information systems. These systems provide users with the capability to access data files and request tables not produced by the division. The requests however, necessarily operate under the secrecy requirements of the Statistics Act. At present there are several operational systems:

University Student Information System (USIS);

Community College Student Information System (CCSIS);

Elementary-Secondary Teacher System (ESTS);

University and College Academic Staff System (UCASS), and several others.

Opportunity for Choice: A Goal for Women in Canada. English and French. $3.75 a copy. Catalogue 1C23-15/1976.

This book, produced on behalf of Statistics Canada by the C.D. Howe Research Institute, had its origins during International Women's Year as a continuing contribution to the role of Women in Canadian Society. It is designed to broaden understanding of the role of women both for the general reader concerned with the place of women in society and for professionals in the disciplines of demography, economics, law, sociology and statistics.

The book contains a presentation of Statistics Canada data on women's participation in the family, educational institutions and the labour force and a comprehensive analysis and evaluation of the evidence. It contains an examination of the effectiveness of existing policies and proposes new ones relevant to the role of women. As the title indicates, a theme of the book is the extent to which women, and men, have opportunities to make choices concerning their roles.

INDEX

The following index has been prepared to assist users in locating statistical information within Statistics Canada publications. The index combines titles, subjects and commodities for all Statistics Canada publications in one integrated index and includes numerous cross-references, prepared using the Library of Congress Subject Headings, to assist the user in locating required information. The numerical references found after each heading are the Catalogue numbers of publications in which the referenced information may be found. Further descriptive information related to publications may be found in the first section of this catalogue.

While searching for items in the index, users should keep in mind that the index has been prepared using the inverted form of heading. Wherever possible, wording of headings has been reversed so as to bring the most significant word(s) forward, followed by the descriptive term.

In addition to this index, a number of classification manuals produced by Statistics Canada contain alphabetical indexes which may be of assistance in locating information. These include the Standard Industrial Classification (12-501), the Canadian International Trade Classification (65-502), the Occupational Classification (12-537, 12-538) and the Standard Geographical Classification (12-556). Further information related to these and other manuals available can be found in the first section of this Catalogue.

Users who are unable to locate required statistics using this index should direct inquiries to their local User Advisory Services Regional Office or to the Central Inquiries Service in Ottawa.

October, 1979

On September 6, 1979, the Honourable Sinclair Stevens, Minister responsible for Statistics Canada, announced a significant increase in the prices of Statistics Canada publications effective October 1, 1979.

The attached is a complete price list with the new prices for subscribable items and the existing prices for current occasionals. With a few exceptions, the pricing of Statistics Canada publications is based on page count and frequency of issue. Please note that the prices for annuals may vary slightly from year to year. New occasionals will be priced on the same scale as annuals. The price for a Full Publication Service, excluding the decennial and quinquennial Census, is $4,000.

If you are a subscriber to our publications, you will receive a renewal notice 2-3 months prior to the termination of your subscription. All subscriptions which have been accepted at the old prices will be honoured.

For information on how to order publications, please consult the Catalogue of Publications, a Regional Reference Centre of User Advisory Services or write Publications Distribution, Statistics Canada, Ottawa, Ontario.

Octobre, 1979

Le 6 septembre 1979, l'Honorable Sinclair Stevens, Ministre responsable de Statistique Canada, annonçait une hausse importante des prix des publications de Statistique Canada devant entrer en vigueur le 1^{er} octobre 1979.

Vous trouverez ci-joint la liste complète des prix des publications disponibles sur abonnement, de même que les prix des publications hors série. A quelques exceptions près, les prix des publications de Statistique Canada sont établis en fonction du nombre de pages et de la périodicité. Veuillez noter que les prix des publications annuelles peuvent changer légèrement d'une année à l'autre. Les prix des nouvelles publications hors série seront établis de la même façon que ceux des publications annuelles. Le service complet des publications, à l'exclusion de celles des recensements décennaux et quinquennaux, coûte $4,000.

Si vous êtes actuellement abonnés à nos publications, vous recevrez un avis de renouvellement deux ou trois mois avant la date d'expiration de votre abonnement. Tous les abonnements qui ont été accordés aux anciens prix seront honorés.

Pour obtenir des renseignements sur la façon de commander les publications, consultez le Catalogue des publications, adressez-vous à un bureau régional de la Division de l'Assistance-utilisateurs ou écrivez au Service de distribution des publications, Statistique Canada, Ottawa (Ontario), K1A 0T6
